GRAND JURY CALLS TUGWELL

SH FEARFUL WAR TO BEGIN ON AUGUST 20

vors Calling 30-Day uce To Stave Off Start Of Conflict

'MUST ACT QUICKLY'

Thinks Action Will Be Too Late Unless Taken Within Week

OSLO, N[illegible] Aug. 16.—(AP)—Representative Hamilton Fish of New York [illegible] flew here from a visit to Germany's foreign minister, says he fears a European war may break out August 20 and proposes a 30-day "truce" to prevent it.

As a delegate Fish came before the interparliamentary union congress today with suggestions for easing the thorny problems of resettling refugees from central Europe. As chairman of the United States delegation he hurried [illegible] as guest of the British delegation. Tomorrow he proposes to address the Congress for support of the [illegible] Pre[illegible] Peace.

The Republican congressman and Roosevelt critic vigorously outlined his views to newspapermen last night. He began by saying he was extremely weary from his long flight from his [illegible] Joachim von Ribbentrop.

These were the salient sentences:

"If something is going to be done to prevent war it must be done within a week. I have seen men on both sides of the two camps. The people really want peace but the situation has developed to a point where peace talk is [illegible] defeatism.

"The United States will keep out of war [illegible] attacked. I cannot see [illegible] can beat the British navy [illegible] I cannot see any[illegible] the German and Italian army.

"[illegible] peace [illegible] Dr. [illegible] the foreign ministers [illegible] France and [illegible] should meet and seek a way out. If they fail then arbitration should be attempted."

STATES TIE UP MAJOR PORTION OF OIL SUPPLY

New Mexico And Oklahoma Join Texas In Issuing Closing Orders

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 16.—(AP)—More than half the country's crude oil supply was cut off today as three states took the lead in a fight against a threatened collapse of the industry's price structure.

Following a [illegible] meeting of the oil [illegible] yesterday, New Mexico and Oklahoma joined with Texas [illegible] 145,206 wells producing [illegible] per cent of the country's output.

A further [illegible] production was [illegible] by Governor Payne H. Ratner [illegible] the Kansas corporation [illegible] order the state's [illegible] down today. Texas [illegible] wells for 15 days [illegible].

Crude oil prices began to topple last week as the Sinclair Prairie company posted a general 20-cent per barrel cut and some of the smaller companies followed suit.

A collapse of the whole structure began when the Humble Oil and Refining company reduced prices from 8 to 32 cents a barrel in Texas, the largest producer.

Observers were not able to determine at once how many employes would be affected, since many were being given vacations with pay, some

INDIANA SLAYER IS ELECTROCUTED

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Baldish, spectacled Adrian H. Miller, 31, last man in death row at state prison here, placidly paid with his life early today for the sex slaying of 17-year-old Alice May Girton.

The pretty brunette business college girl, daughter of a farm family near Winchester, Ind., was found dead last October 13 in a Fort Wayne house where she and Miller had rooms. She had been raped and then strangled with her own under clothes.

Miller, an engineering student from Racine, Wis., walked to the electric chair without help. He made no last statement. He was pronounced dead at 12:11 a.m., central standard time. Evidently resigned, he had spent his last hour with a Catholic priest. He dined earlier on filet mignon and put in hours reading chemistry, engineering and philosophy.

The man confessed less than 24 hours after the killing. In his trial he pleaded insanity, but three doctors testified he was of sound mind. A jury of 12 men convicted him May 6.

Showdown Expected Soon In European Situation

HEROINE OF WRECK

Herself painfully hurt, she ministered to the needs of more badly injured passengers and was hailed as the heroine of the disaster.

TOMKINS SAYS MANAGEMENT OF COLONY PROPER

Makes Categorical Denial Of Four Charges Against Institution

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Dr. R. C. Tomkins, former superintendent of the State Colony and Training school at Pineville, issued a statement denying mismanagement of the institution when he was its head.

The statement was in reply to published reports of a grand jury investigation and its report to former Governor Richard W. Leche that a patient hanged herself, another patient gave birth to a child and there was general incompetency.

Dr. Tomkins was deposed as superintendent shortly after the jury's secret report was made to the governor.

"The secret grand jury investigation in Rapides parish was held in October, 1937, while I was practically on my deathbed and unable to defend myself," Dr. Tomkins said. "I was being double crossed by several scheming politicians who saw it to their advantage to oust me. One succeeded in getting my position when I resigned. He was the main instigator of the complaints against me, though before that time he pretended to be one of my best friends. If I had died, all reflection would have been left upon my character.

"I wrote to Governor Leche requesting a complete and thorough investigation. I never received any reply to my letters. Now since this investigation was only begun and dropped and I never had an opportunity to give my side I am going to answer each charge backed up by the actual facts as can be proven in each case."

The first charge was that some at-

FISH CRIES LIKE BABY WHEN CAUGHT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 16.—(AP)—He has the corpus delicti else Frank Creasey wouldn't dare spin that yarn about the "whatsit" fish he hooked out of 20 feet of water in the Gulf of Mexico.

He has sent vivid descriptions to experts at leading aquariums but none has been able to identify his four and a half inch fish.

On either side of the critter's body are bladders. The fish, Creasey says—and he's in no mood for levity, being a gent who takes his angling seriously—used three bladders to talk.

"It cried like a baby when I lifted it from the water."

"Whatsit" has six legs, and they're most unusual:

"Each of the legs lighted up flashing on and off."

At the end of each leg is a claw similar to a cat's.

"It fought like a bass when it hit my shrimp. It has wings (he pointed them out) which enable it to whip through the water faster than a trout.

"The only similar fish science has catalogued is the 'red gurnard,' only known to exist in the British tropical seas. It does not have the wings or electric light that my fish has.

"Then again it might be a saphirin but they're supposed to have gone out of existence about 200 years ago."

Creasey wishes "whatsit" hadn't gobbled his shrimp and caused him all this worry.

POLISH SOLDIER SHOT DOWN BY DANZIG GUARDS

Killing Clouds Efforts Of High Commissioner To Ease Tension

GERMANY STIFFENS

British Officials See No Results From Hitler-Burckhardt Meeting

DANZIG, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The killing of a Polish soldier by Danzig frontier guards on the Danzig-Polish border today clouded the efforts of Professor Carl J. Burckhardt, League of Nations high commissioner, to clarify the grave Danzig situation in a meeting with Danzig Nazis and Polish officials.

Burckhardt had Arthur Greiser, president of the Danzig senate, and Marian Chodacki, Polish commissioner-general, in his office here for a conversation which lasted barely a half hour. Chodacki planned to leave late today for Warsaw.

The meeting was described in Polish circles as merely a "contact." Danzig officials declined to make any comment on the meeting with Burckhardt.

The shooting of the soldier, Aleksander Rozanovske, was the third serious incident which has marked the bitter Danzig quarrel between Nazi Germany and Poland in recent months.

Polish and Danzig versions of the shooting differed today, as they did in the previous cases. Two Poles and one Danziger have been killed in three border incidents.

By Associated Press

The European scales tilted sharply toward an impending showdown today against a background of rumors but with a complete lack of tangible news.

With the feeling prevailing in most old world capitals that something was in the wind different indications came from the two ends of the Rome-Berlin axis over a possible early settlement of the German-Polish dispute over Danzig.

In Berlin a stiffening of the Nazi attitude towards Poland and other signs of tension heightened the conviction among observers there that

RETAIL TRADE SHOWS BOOST

First Six Months Of 1939 $1,000,000,000 Above Last Similar Period

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The commerce department announced today that retail business was about $1,000,000,000 better in the first half of 1939 than it was the first six months of 1938.

Not only that, it said, but the increase was achieved despite a fall in prices.

Prices of general merchandise were about 2.5 per cent under a year ago while retail food costs were off about 3.5 per cent. Thus, unit sales increased even more than the dollar volume.

Retail trade for the first six months of this year totaled about $17,900,000,000, a gain of 6 per cent over the first six months last year.

The rise over last year was held for each month with largest relative gains being scored during the second quarter when sales averaged an increase of about 7 per cent over the like period last year.

This compared with a gain of 5 per cent for the first quarter.

Sales of department stores, apparel shops, variety stores and mail order houses totaled about $3,800,000,000 or 5

LAKE CHARLES MAN OPPOSES ALIMONY

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Richard Van Conover, Lake Charles, La., oil man and aviator, opposed his wife's alimony application in supreme court yesterday, charging in an affidavit that she "was hopelessly intoxicated" at least once a week during their five years of marriage and that she frequently struck him with bottles "or anything she could lay her hands on."

Conover said on one occasion she split his scalp with an "iron object," and that the only lapse in her drinking was a three-month period in Los Angeles in 1936 when she "took the cure."

Mrs. Conover, formerly of Los Angeles, in asking $250 a week plus $5,500 in counsel fees, charged last week that Conover frequently was intoxicated and beat her.

ENGINEER SURVIVES TRAIN WRECK

E. F. Hecox, Sparks, Nev., engineer of the wrecked "City of San Francisco," is shown at the scene of the tragedy standing in front of the streamliner's power car which was derailed like the rest of the train but miraculously remained upright. Investigators said they found definite proof the tracks had been tampered with, causing the derailment.

FOURNET SIXTH TO QUIT BOARD OF UNIVERSITY

Asserts Judicial Duties Now Requiring All His Time

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16.—(AP)—John B. Fournet, associate justice of the state supreme court, who resigned as a member of the Louisiana State university board of supervisors, is the sixth member to retire since the L. S. U. "scandal" broke nearly two months ago.

Fournet, in resigning, wrote Governor Earl K. Long as follows:

"Since my appointment as a member of the board of supervisors of the Louisiana State university, by Governor James A. Noe, on February 17, 1936, I have always acted on all matters presented to the board in a manner that I sincerely considered to be for the best interest of the university.

"When the chaotic conditions of the past six weeks presented themselves, I felt it was my duty to remain on the board and do everything within my power to rehabilitate the affairs

LONG CONSIDERS SHUTDOWN ON OIL

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Governor Earl K. Long said he was considering ordering a 10-day oil production shutdown in Louisiana in the move to halt reduction of crude prices by refineries.

Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico have already ordered 15-day shutdowns. Kansas and possibly other states are expected to do likewise.

Long said he would confer with State Conservation Commissioner Ernest Clements and state oil men before taking action.

If a shutdown is not ordered, he said, next month's oil allowable might be cut as much as 50,000 barrels daily. The production order is due next week.

He said he wanted to move with caution because any restriction of production would reduce revenue from the severance taxes, which go principally to the schools.

E. S. Clements, Louisiana conservation commissioner, said today that in the event Louisiana ordered a temporary shut-down he did not believe many workers would lose their jobs.

"My opinion is, although I don't know the records, very few workers will lose their jobs," Clements said. "I believe the companies will hold them on. I was talking to one big operator who said he certainly would not drop any men."

EX-NURSE KILLS HER SISTER IN MERCY SLAYING

Asserts She Is Happier After Ending 'Misery' Of Relative

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 16.—(AP)—A 77-year-old spinster, one-time nurse in the homes of two industrial leaders, was questioned today in the "mercy slaying" of her sister, a patient in the Allentown State Mental hospital.

Detective James L. Christine said Miss Margaret L. Cowan shot her 67-year-old sister, Mrs. Louella Saeger, in the latter's hospital room yesterday and told him:

"I feel happier now than I have all my life. I have put my sister out of her misery. I believe anyone in misery like hers should be put out of it."

Hospital attendants found Miss Cowan kneeling beside her sister's body and placing a bunch of flowers in her hands.

The elderly former nurse was taken to the Lehigh county jail but no charge was placed against her pending questioning today by District Attorney John L. Cutshall.

Detective Christine gave this story of the shooting:

Miss Cowan left the one-room apartment she had occupied in Quakertown, Pa., for the past four years with a garment she had sewn for her ailing sister. She joined her brother-in-law, John S. Saeger, at the hospital. They went to Mrs. Saeger's room.

A few minutes later, the husband stepped out. Miss Cowan took a .32-

FIRST THANKSGIVING FOR CONSTITUTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The first presidential proclamation of Thanksgiving wasn't for the benefit of feasting, full crops or football, but to give thanks for that political document—the constitution.

Midway in the year 1789, Elias Boudinot, a stout legislator from New Jersey, got up in congress and in a long speech suggested the nation give thanks for the constitution and all that it meant.

Red of face, Aedanus Burke of South Carolina, spluttered to his feet and denounced the suggestion.

"Why give thanks," he asked, "until we are sure how it is going to work out?"

Burke and Tucker got some sympathy, but not much voting support. The measure passed, and George Washington proclaimed November 26 as a day for giving thanks for the constitution.

COOPER SEEKS RECORDS HELD BY GROSJEAN

Says Former Collector Has Refused To Give Up Papers

LONG DENIES I. O. U.

Asserts Pledge Not Required In Place Of Payroll Deduction

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 16.—(AP)—W. A. Cooper, state revenue collector, announced that Alice Lee Grosjean, former collector, had in her possession certain records of the office which he was trying to regain.

Miss Grosjean, Mrs. W. A. Tharpe in private life, made a surprise appearance here yesterday and testified for 45 minutes before the East Baton Rouge parish grand jury investigating political conditions.

The former secretary of the late Huey Long, whom he made secretary of state and once allowed to serve briefly as governor, was discharged as revenue collector last February by Governor Richard W. Leche, who intimated she was not in harmony with his administration.

Cooper said yesterday that Miss Grosjean had in her possession records pertaining to the payroll listing employes under her administration and that she had disregarded his requests that she return them.

In another quarter, Governor Earl K. Long denied a published report that state employes, in lieu of paying five per cent deductions from their salaries toward the state administration's campaign fund, were being made to sign pledge cards for the amounts.

The governor reiterated his resolve not to resume the collections, discontinued after they had been applied on July salaries, during the remainder of his tenure in office.

Regarding the newspaper report that pledges, or I. O. U.'s, were being required, Long said:

"If any newspaper can furnish me with one of those pledge cards I'll buy the person giving it to me a suit of clothes, or give him $100.

"That opinion was inspired for no other purpose than to injure me. That is just the kind of thing that made Huey Long what he was."

The governor is a brother of the late Senator Long.

What has happened to the 100 or so heavy bronze plaques honoring former Governor Richard W. Leche is still not entirely clear.

Governor Long said the plaques

SEVERAL HEARD BY GRAND JURY

Most Of Morning Session Spent In Examining One Witness

Several witnesses were examined this morning by the Ouachita parish grand jury but District Attorney Frank W. Hawthorne said he had no announcement to make concerning the morning session. Mr. Hawthorne did not state the number of persons who testified.

Most of the morning session was taken up with the examination of one witness, who remained in the grand jury room for almost two hours and thus a fewer number of witnesses were examined than usual.

A number of parish officials, who had been summoned late yesterday, were waiting in adjoining room and it is thought they will testify today. District Attorney Hawthorne refused to allow publication of their names. Judge David I. Garrett warned against publication of names of witnesses when the grand jury was charged and only in certain instances has the district attorney given permission to make public names of those who have appeared before the body.

Presence of city and parish officials, as well as the fact that many public records are being examined, indicates that a wide investigation of alleged irregularities in public offices is being made by the grand jury.

Mr. Hawthorne has stated that "many matters" have been brought before the jury.

HARRIS SELECTS BUILDING CHIEF

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 16.—(AP)—T. H. Harris, state superintendent of education, announced the employment of Horace R. Brown as supervisor of the present $9,000,000 construction program at state colleges and institutions.

He said Brown, resident engineer of the Public Works administration here for the past several years, would receive a $300 per month salary.

PLANE VICTIM

NEW 'HEAVEN' IN ROOSEVELT AREA PLANNED

Father Divine's Secretary Negotiating For Vanderbilt Estate

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(AP)—"Angels" of Father Divine's Harlem cult are seeking to establish their second rural "heaven" near President Roosevelt's Hyde Park home—this time on the palatial 700-acre Frederick William Vanderbilt estate.

John Lamb, white secretary of the negro evangelist, said negotiations are under way for purchase of the mansion and lands where Vanderbilt, railroad director and financier, dwelt in baronial comfort until his death June 29, 1938.

Lamb said President Roosevelt, in answer to a letter from Father Divine asking if he would disapprove the purchase, replied he had no objections to the addition of another cult "heaven" near his Hyde Park property.

In the last year Father Divine's followers have completed an "extension heaven" directly across the Hudson river on the rolling 500-acre "Krum Elbow" estate they bought from Howland Spencer, anti-New Dealer.

Lamb said the president pointed out in his letter anyone has the right to purchase property in this country, and he had hoped the Vanderbilt estate would be bought by someone who would take care of it.

The estate is only a short distance up the river from Hyde Park.

Lamb said the negotiations are being made with a niece of Vanderbilt, who was a grandson of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, founder of the family fortune.

The niece, Mrs. Margaret Louise Van Alen, lives in Newport, R. I., where a group of "angels" will converge Sunday to inspect "The Castle," a mansion which Mrs. Angela C. Kaufman has offered to Father Divine.

The Vanderbilt estate is made architecturally memorable by a Grecian-Corinthian mansion built by Vanderbilt in 1898 and fitted with furnishings

SEARCH FOR TRAIN SABOTEUR WIDENS

RENO, Nev., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Search for the saboteur who wrecked the streamline flier "City of San Francisco" intensified today as the Southern Pacific railroad posted a reward of $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the accident which killed 23 people and injured 109.

Numerous persons have been picked up in railway yards and hobo jungles on both sides of the remote canyon 200 miles east of here, where railroad officials said a sprung rail rocketed the speeding luxury train off the track Saturday night, but officers, including federal bureau of investigation operatives, disclosed no clues.

Robert La Duceur of Lewistown, Mont., who had been questioned for two days in connection with the wreck, was cleared of any implication last night by the F. B. I. and railroad agents, but Chief of Police Andy M. Welliver said he planned to hold him for further investigation.

The Southern Pacific, meanwhile, made plans for a formal inquiry into the derailment, probably to be held in Carlin within a week or two under direction of J. C. Goodfellow, division superintendent.

Purpose of the inquiry will be to ascertain the facts, fix responsibility and formulate plans to prevent recurrence of such a disaster.

Ban On Publishing Names Of Witnesses Partly Abolished

RUCKER TO TESTIFY

Maestri Excused From Going To Dallas Because Of Anniversary

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 16.—(AP)—A. P. Tugwell, state treasurer and candidate for governor, who has asked for a searching investigation of Louisiana political affairs, appeared today to testify before the East Baton Rouge grand jury investigating Louisiana State university and state affairs.

Tugwell was not subpoenaed as a witness but appeared by request and waited outside the grand jury room to be called while the jurymen held an executive session shortly after convening at 10 a.m.

Tugwell has issued a number of public statements questioning the handling of state financial deals and on his arrival today said he would go before the grand jury.

In the meantime District Attorney Dewey Sanchez revised his agreement with newspapermen to permit publication of the names of all witnesses except those specifically forbidden by his office.

Sanchez also made public the records showing witnesses who had appeared or were summoned to appear and authorized publication of the names.

The district attorney also allowed access to the records of his office showing summonses issued for persons who had been called there only for questioning.

Among those subpoenaed to appear tomorrow morning before the grand jury was Jimmy Rucker, in charge of the Shreveport office of the department of revenue while Alice Lee Grosjean served as state collector of revenue.

Rucker was discharged by W. A. Cooper who replaced Miss Grosjean in the state position during a shakeup of the department. Miss Grosjean, former secretary to the late Governor Huey P. Long, secretary of state and governor for a day, testified yesterday before the grand jury for 45 minutes.

Also summoned before the grand jury tomorrow were A. O. Gallino, a local contractor, and Charles A. Littlejohn, president of a local transportation company.

The district attorney's records showed that Summa Caldwell, president of Caldwell Brothers and Hart, construction firm which did a large business with the state, had been summoned as a witness on August 11 but

Number Of Associations, Corporations And Individuals Billed

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The government's anti-trust experts, who have investigated oil, aluminum, doctors, typewriters and even lollipop sticks, turned today to the kraft paper industry.

Kraft is a tough brown paper made of southern pine pulp and used for bags and containers.

A special federal grand jury yesterday indicted the Kraft Paper association, 35 member corporations and 14 men, and the National Container association, 12 regional associations, 27 member corporations and 28 men for conspiring to limit production and maintain prices in restraint of trade, in violation of the Sherman act.

Penalties for violation of the act may range from simple desist decrees to fines and prison sentences in criminal cases.

Some of the largest firms indicted were the Brown Paper company, Champion Paper and Fibre company, Crown-Zellerbach corporation, St. Re-

THREE CHILDREN HUNTED IN SWAMP

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Three children who failed to return from an errand to a grocery store were hunted today by some 200 volunteers, firemen and sheriff's deputies in a swamp district in the area of Spring Park, 20 miles west of here.

The children were Buddy Forde, 4, his sister, Mae, 6, and Bobby Fable, 11.

The parents said the children left their homes about two miles northeast of Spring Park at 3 p.m. yesterday to get a loaf of bread.

Dorothea Fable, sister of Bobby, met them about 4 p.m. headed for home, and told them to hustle on. That was the last seen of them.

Authorities were without any indication of why the children might have wandered into the swamp but they assumed something had caught their attention and darkness fell upon them before they were aware of it.

The [illegible] that had been real was the [illegible] ing of the shop.

She had refused to [illegible] a [illegible] part of anything [illegible] happening to her. Everything had had the quality of unreality.

And principally among these was Philip Callen.

Philip Callen even now was sleeping under the same roof. An imposter—because he was there as a guest, her aunt's welcome guest because he was her "fiance."

Cecily thought, "I [illegible] this mething about it. I will tell Aunt Olivia the truth."

She was suddenly ashamed that she had permitted the thing to get on as it had. Yet, she reasoned [illegible] it had done no harm. Philip Callen had added immeasurably to the gayety of the household. He made himself a useful and pleasant guest and he was well liked.

Allene Bixby made no secret that she had a crush on him. Karen Willoughby had already invited him—with Cecily, of course—for a week-end at her parents' home at Southampton later in the season.

Cecily had decided to let it go on. Philip would surely not remain at Darelea for more than a few days and when he left, it would all be a forgotten incident.

A feeling of dislike and distrust of him thrust itself into her thoughts. She wanted to be fair and searched her mind for the source of her antagonism for him. But, search as she would, she could find no tangible reason. At first she had expected that he would, in her own words, take advantage of the situation, to make passes at her. Yet when she was alone with him, his attitude was that he was amused rather than intrigued with her. In the presence of others, he was a trifle more attentive to her. That was all.

Suddenly the memory of his eyes when he didn't know he was being [illegible] came back to her. They always seemed to narrow a trifle as though they were calculating something.

That small sign was a danger signal to Cecily, and for all that [illegible] he was [illegible] she decided to go to [illegible] She would [illegible]

Slipped under her door was a small white envelope.

With mounting excitement, she picked it up and opened it.

There was a sheet of blank paper enclosing two crisp one dollar bills and a small, faded sprig. That was all.

She held the sprig with its dried blossom in her hand. "It's Rosemary," she said. And then, "Rosemary is for remembrance."

SECURITY BOARD ALTERING PLAN

Lump Payments To Be Replaced By Monthly Funds, Act Provides

Amendment of the social security act has caused the social security board to stop accepting claims for lump sum old age insurance benefits from wage earners now reaching 65, it was announced Wednesday by P. L. Dark, manager of the Monroe office of the board.

Under the revised program such workers have an opportunity to get lifetime monthly benefits. These benefits [illegible] be payable on January 1, 1940, instead of in 1942 as scheduled in the original law.

[illegible] these changes Mr. Dark [illegible]

"[illegible] of the payment of [illegible] now payable to workers at age 65 is the only revision of the old age insurance program to take effect simultaneously [illegible] the amendments are signed by the president. The new and liberalized plan [illegible] this kind of benefit [illegible] all workers [illegible] regardless of whether they reach 65 before or after 1940 [illegible] benefits if they meet a few [illegible] requirements.

"[illegible] that approximately 45[illegible] persons past 65 will be [illegible] benefits in 1940 and that the benefits payable during the year will exceed $11[illegible],000,000. This total [illegible] payments to retired wage earners plus the additional benefits which the amended plan provides for wives and dependent children of retired workers and for the widows, orphans or dependent parents of workers who die. Under the old plan lump-sum benefits would probably not have amounted to more than $30,000,000 in 1940, including both payments to workers reaching 65 and death payments."

Representatives of the board throughout the country have begun to notify wage earners currently applying for lump-sum payments that the new program may enable them to receive monthly benefits after January 1, 1940. Workers who have already received lump-sum payments may also be eligible for monthly benefits after that date. The board, Mr. Dark stated, plans to circularize both this group and others over 65 who, from its wage records, appear likely to be eligible.

"Workers who become 65 between now and 1940 and many of those who have already attained that age and been paid lump-sum benefits will, in almost all cases," he said, "get considerably more from the revised old-age insurance plan than they could have received before the law was amended. The monthly benefits now provided will practically always amount to much more than the lump-sum to which the claimant would formerly have been entitled."

POULTRY MEET HERE PLANNED

Meeting To Discuss State Program Is Called For Thursday

Farmers, poultrymen and hatcherymen of northeast Louisiana are invited to a poultry meeting at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the courthouse, D. L. Bornman, parish agent, said Wednesday. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss problems in connection with the Louisiana Poultry Improvement association's program for 1939-40.

Any hatcheryman or poultryman in this section of the state interested in having his flock approved this fall for furnishing hatching eggs to any of the Louisiana United States approved hatcheries is especially urged to attend the meeting, Mr. Bornman said. The meeting will deal with flock selection, management and care of pullets for fall and winter production and other timely topics.

The meeting is being held at this time so that all flocks can be culled, blood-tested and approved in plenty of time to contact hatcheries for sale of hatching eggs during the 1940 hatching season, the agent said.

This year, the federal government approved 22 hatcheries in the state, with 654 carefully-selected, culled, blood-tested, banded and approved flocks. The hatcheries last year sold approximately 2,500,000 baby chicks in the state.

GAS COMPETITION ASKED IN ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 16.—(AP)—The state utilities commission took under advisement today application of the Louisiana-Nevada Transit company for authority to compete with the Arkansas Louisiana Gas company in southwest Arkansas.

A week-long hearing on the application concluded on a stormy note with Attorney E. H. McFadden of Hope describing the Arkansas Louisiana company as "an octopus that has had its tentacles wrapped around the towns of southwest Arkansas for 30 years."

W. A. Delaney of Ada, Okla., president of the Louisiana-Nevada company, interrupted to declare he noted a "supercilious grin" on the faces of Arkansas Louisiana officials while McFadden was speaking.

"If this commission will turn us loose in southwest Arkansas with a gas distribution system," he shouted, "we'll wipe that grin off their faces in 60 days. Just turn us loose and let it be tooth and fang."

Delaney's concern proposes to build a $440,000 pipeline from Webster parish, La., to Hope and Okay, serving the Ideal Cement company of Okay, Hope Brick works and Hope Municipal Power plant at a rate of 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

W. C. Fitzhugh, attorney for the Arkansas Louisiana, described this proposal as a "doubtful, speculative venture." Pointing out that his company had offered to meet the 10 cent rate, he asked "what advantage would there be in granting this permit."

The Arkansas Louisiana company currently is selling gas to the Okay Cement plant at 14.5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet and to the Hope consumers at a slightly higher rate.

Note On Patents

If recommendations made to congress by the temporary economic committee are adopted there is going to be a considerable change in the patent situation in the United States. As is common knowledge, the patent system has been used to promote monopolistic practices. Some serious complaints about the functioning of the existing situation should be remedied if the suggested legislation is passed.

The object of the patent law is "to promote science and useful arts." This is hardly accomplished if a corporation locks up a patent in its vaults for long-time future reference. It is scarcely in the public interest for patents to be used to control price and production of articles.

Times have changed somewhat since the main reason for patent legislation was to protect the individual inventor in the proceeds from his invention. This must still be done, of course. But to put inventions at the service of the public as soon and as cheaply as possible and in large volume should be the purpose of any legislation today.

So They Named Her Irene

In Holland there is a new baby. Probably there are a lot of new babies, but there is one in particular, named Irene Emma Elizabeth.

She was born to Crown Princess Juliana and Prince Bernhard, and so she is a royal child, newest addition to the house of Orange.

Naming a baby is always a difficult task. But in this case, the name was chosen very deliberately—Irene.

In classical Greek mythology, Irene was the goddess of peace, one of the daughters of Zeus. The Romans had such a goddess, too, calling her Pax, likewise a name for peace.

So now against all the war machines and the bombers and the marching millions, there stands a little baby, named Irene, to personify the tiny hope that lies within the hearts of the millions, the hope of peace.

By ANGELO PATRI

TELL THE TRUTH

[illegible] Birth records are used many times in a lifetime and it is wise to have them accurate, say for passport use, or military service. Even from a practical point alone the truth serves best. And it helps children more than any lie can ever be forced to do.

When you are trying to get help for a backward child tell the whole story. Answer the questions asked you as truthfully as you can. Hiding the facts means hindering the doctor and the teacher. When they begin work with the child they soon verify your story and if it is false they must begin again. Time is wasted, and along with the time something as valuable, the faith and the respect of those whose help you enlisted.

Telling a teacher that a child has always been truthful, honest, brave and responsible when your very reason for taking him to the teacher is his directly opposite behavior, does not serve at all. The child will soon tell his own tale in his behavior, the teacher will understand and begin to work against his weaknesses and toward his strength. The untruth is useless and costly.

I think it is very wrong to tell outsiders the faults or weaknesses of children, to gossip about them at any time. But it is quite as wrong to hide those defects when seeking help for the children. Tell the truth to those whose duty it is to cure them, but conceal them from unhelpful strangers. Don't talk about them even in the family. Error grows by acceptance. Refuse to accept it. If you talk about it as something settled and real, you help fix it upon the child. Set about getting help and screen the child who needs it.

What is one to say to the child himself? As little as possible about his trouble. He must face it squarely. He must know that he fails in behavior or work, and at the same time he must know that with help, mostly from his own strong desire to improve, he can do better. He cannot be told he is a success because that would deny the truth. He cannot be told that he is a failure because that would be confirming his error. He can be told that he is in need of strength for this purpose, and shown how to get it. He can be trained to hope, to wish for success, and to work, under direction, to get it.

The first step always is for the parent to tell the truth as far as he knows it to those he depends upon for help.

Three Positions Change

Barkley didn't [illegible]. There were perhaps extenuating circumstances. He was elected majority leader by a margin of one vote.

Now we get back to the senate foreign relations committee. A steering committee loyal to the administration never would have allowed Senator Clark of Missouri to succeed the late J. Ham Lewis on the foreign relations committee. Clark's opposition to the administration has been known for years. Yet he got the job.

Similarly, Senators Reynolds of North Carolina and Gillette of Iowa would not have got the seats left by the defeat of Senator Duffey of Wisconsin and the transfer of Senator Chavez of New Mexico to another committee. Reynolds is flatly opposed to the administration's foreign policy. Gillette could not be expected to remain loyal, since New Dealers tried to purge him in 1938.

But they, too, got the jobs. The result was that the administration on policy matters was actually in the minority on the important foreign relations committee. It had lost three and the opposition had gained three members. Two instances will show how it worked.

The administration tried to get the mandatory embargo cut out of the neutrality act. At no time could it muster enough votes to report the revised bill out on the floor of the senate. It finally was shelved by a 12-11 vote in the committee.

The bill to permit the army and navy to help equip American nations with American-made defense weapons dangled in committee for months. Only a minority of the committee was against it, but it was a big enough minority to look bad on a policy bill. Finally, late in the session, the house passed the bill first and it come to the senate.

Five Confused Months

Although the foreign relations committee then reported out the bill as passed by the house, it lay on the calendar for several days before Pittman could round up enough committee support on the floor of the senate to help match the opposition. It then was within a half hour of adjournment and a threat of filibuster by Senator Vandenberg killed it.

Both bills are scheduled to come up early next session. By agreement with Progress on the construction of the $[illegible] high school at Ruston is going ahead rapidly, it was stated at the offices of J. W. Smith, local architects who drew the plans for the large structure. It will be completed and ready for use late in the fall it was stated.

Bids for landscaping the grounds also will be opened on the same date and place.

The difficulty of fortification of foods with vitamins is that the average person does not study labels to know exactly what there is in the foods that he buys. If there is indiscriminate fortification of all sorts of foods with all sorts of vitamins and minerals one will have no idea as to what one is getting. It is conceivable also that the points of safety in dosages may thus be passed.

The general principle has been adopted by the scientific bodies of the American Medical association that it is satisfactory to add vitamins and minerals to foods in order to bring them up to the natural levels of the best in their field with the understanding however that such additions can be limited to vitamins or minerals for which a wider distribution is considered to be in the interest of the public health.

Jimmie Fidler In Hollywood

HONOLULU, Aug. 16—Dear Staff: Hollywood should take a lesson in hospitality from Honolulu, where our good ship Matsonia docked today. The greeting passengers receive as they go ashore is magnificent. Songs and music and cheers and alohas—why, they make you feel like the prodigal son come home to live off father again.

You needn't be famous or important—the lowest and highest are welcomed alike. Leis woven from tropical flowers and dizzying with natural perfume are flung without favor over the shoulders of all. Beautiful Hawaiian girls toss smiles to males old and young. Sunbrowned young men grin for arriving females, fat and slim.

How different in Hollywood! A visitor to the film city is given to understand he's not welcome in the studios. No one tries to make him feel at home. The town itself is quite ordinary, with only a few tall buildings and a lot of little stores. At best it doesn't present a colorful picture to tourists who expect glamor and flash.

Decline Of The Grass Skirts

Hawaiian [illegible] diminished about the metropolis. A year ago most pubs were spreading themselves out with artificial palms, reed instrument music and coconut shells instead of highball glasses, but the vogue has worn off for one reason or another.

The only intrepid place that keeps up spirit of the blue, warm Pacific isle is the Hawaiian Room at the Hotel Lexington, where the mobile murals in the wall try to revive the scene at the beach on Waikiki and Ray Kinney's orchestra plays all the island's music and winds up with the inevitable "Aloha" every evening. And coconut shells are used regularly in place of glassware for the majority of thirst-quenching drinks.

Moreover, the trio of young ladies in grass skirts who dance the steps of the tropical dances still is around. More than a year ago they came here to remain a month. They have stayed fourteen. And from their current rate of popularity, it doesn't look as if they ever are going back.

It's Incognito From Now On

Charlie McCarthy was under "wraps" on his recent visit to Manhattan. This was to protect him from what befell him the last time he visited New York under the guardianship of his mentor, Edgar Bergen. Namely, "dummynapping."

Edgar, after all, has been using Charlie for a 14-course mealticket for some time. Last time Charlie came to Gotham, a playful journalist who occupies the desk just opposite ours, decided to take Charlie out for a good time. Bergen had gone forth to survey the night life and Charlie had been left cold in a dank and dim luggage case at home.

So this newspaperman colleague—his name is Frank Farrell, if you insist upon all the details—went up to Charlie's hotel room and rescued him from his padded cell. Then he took Charlie around to the major night clubs where Edgar caught up with him.

That was some time ago. This time [illegible] was around somewhere, exactly where he could not say.

Long asserted flatly, however, none of them would be placed out in public places. He said he understood they had been ordered for commemorating Leche's name on bridges and other state projects.

Former Governor Leche now is under federal indictment in the Louisiana scandal investigations.

The rumor had been going around that the plaques bearing Leche's name or features, or both, were neatly stacked in the basement of the state highway commission building. However, F. Warren Raggio and Jesse Nugent, commission members, said they knew nothing about them.

"From now on," Long said, "the highway commission won't advertise anybody."

"Let's put it this way," Raggio suggested, "we just won't put any living man's name on any minor bridge or road project."

Following Leche's indictment, Louisiana State university ordered names of all living persons removed from campus buildings. Leche's name and his features in Bronze are set in many of the campus structures.

Governor Long said all highway signs in the state bearing Leche's name or names of any present or former state officials were being torn down.

The governor said he understood the former executive's name had been removed from all state ambulances and dental trailers.

Concerning the full size mural painting of Leche in the new $1,000,000 capitol annex, Long said the only thing he had to say was that the work had not been paid for as yet.

Department store sales totaled more than $1,600,000,000, a rise of about 3 per cent over the 1938 period, while mail order sales, which showed the largest relative improvement of the general merchandise group, totaled about $230,000,000, a gain of 14 per cent.

Total food sales amounted to $4,500,000,000, only slightly above the dollar volume of the like period of 1938.

Sales of consumers' durable goods were estimated at $4,200,000,000, about one-fifth larger than for the comparable period of 1938. The largest comparative gain for this ground was recorded for new passenger automobiles, dollar sales of which rose about 40 per cent.

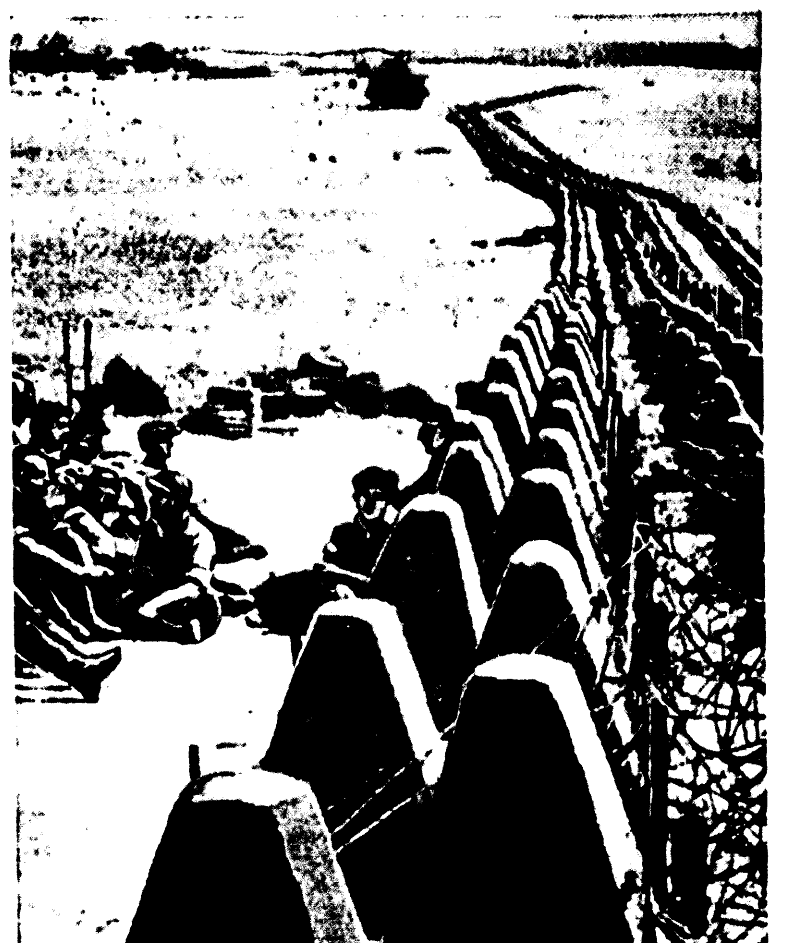
MOTHER ENGLAND HAS A FEW EXTRA TRICKS UP HER SLEEVE—This is a shadow fleet, Britain's ace-in-the-hole. Long forgotten by the average Englishman, the 133 floating battle units pictured above have lain idle in harbors around the British isles since the World war. But though idle the vessels have been kept in excellent condition, ready to steam to the assistance of the first-line fleet. Shown at anchor in Weymouth harbor, England, this shadow fleet will join the regular navy during the tension months of August and September.



GERMANY'S NEWLY FAMED "WEST WALL"—That Germany is fast becoming invulnerable against tank attack is shown in the picture (above) of concrete and barbed wire anti-tank barriers which stretch for miles opposite France's Maginot line. An important part of the new "invincible" westwall fortifications, the barriers are being constructed by Germany's vast labor forces drawn from industry.

On August 1 William G. Rankin, removed state commissioner of conservation, was subpoenaed to give testimony but the subpoena was shown recalled and Rankin has not appeared to testify before the state grand jury.

The list showed that Walter Pilcher, manager of the Baton Rouge Supply company, which dealt on a large scale with sale of supplies to L. S. U. and state agencies, has already testified. His name had not been made public previously in connection with the grand jury investigation.

Both Miss Grosjean and her husband, W. A. Tharpe, testified yesterday before the grand jury. She was discharged as revenue collector last February by Governor Richard W. Leche, now resigned, who intimated she was not loyal to his administration.

MAESTRI WON'T GO TO DALLAS THURSDAY

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Assistant Attorney General O. John Rogge this morning announced a change of plans whereby Mayor Robert S. Maestri would not be forced to appear as a witness in the Freeman W. Burford removal hearing in federal court in Dallas tomorrow, the third anniversary of Maestri's inaugural as mayor.

Rogge earlier had prepared a subpoena for Maestri's appearance there, but apparently withdrew it on Maestri's request in view of a large open house he had arranged at the city hall tomorrow to celebrate completion of his third year in office.

Rogge said that he either would take a deposition from Maestri or ask his appearance in Dallas on Friday.

Rogge went ahead with plans to handle the case himself in Dallas tomorrow. He will take the original papers on which the government bases its Connally act violation indictments against Burford, former Governor Richard W. Leche, Seymour Weiss and the East Texas Refining company, of which Burford is president.

These papers consist of an opinion by Assistant State Attorney General James O'Connor of Louisiana on the legality of a proposed allowable increase in the Rodessa field section from which the alleged "hot oil" was run, the first order for the increase, signed by Dr. J. A. Shaw, head of the minerals division of the conservation department, in the absence of Chairman Maestri, and the second order extending the first, signed by Maestri himself.

Shaw and O'Connor already have been subpoenaed as witnesses.

The indictments named O'Connor, Shaw and Maestri as having been "misled" in the transaction.

Subpoenas were served yesterday on Shaw and O'Connor. All will probably leave on the 5 p.m. plane today. They must appear in Dallas at 10 a.m. Thursday.

The government was granted a delay until Thursday in the Burford case because, Rogge said: "We may want to put in some evidence over there, although we don't believe it is necessary."

Rogge disclosed that William G. Elliott of Fort Worth, Tex., special agent in charge of region 5, division of investigation, PWA, was directing a staff of 11 agents in a "thorough probe" of the New Orleans charity hospital and more than a score of other PWA projects.

The government invested about $3,600,000 in the new $12,500,000 hospital unit, featuring the 20-story main hospital building, one of the largest in the world.

Reached later, Elliott said: "We are especially interested in construction of the hospital. By that I mean the engineering, and all phases of work in the building."

Several nationally known engineers were called in recently when sinking of the gigantic structure was reported. Cracks have developed in the walls in certain sections.

The federal grand jury continued its work and officials indicated new indictments would be returned Friday before it recesses for two weeks.

half-time pay. Many firms said they would have their men clean up and recondition properties during the period.

It was the first shutdown of the mid-continent area ever attempted on such a wide scale. Only certain fields have been closed in the past.

The oil compact itself took no direct part in the shutdown maneuvers. Representatives met for two hours yesterday and then announced each state would "handle its own particular problem in its particular way."

Governor Leon C. Phillips immediately announced the 15-day shutdown of Oklahoma's wells at 7 a.m. today, and a few hours later Governor John E. Miles of New Mexico said he would issue a 15-day closing proclamation today.

Governor Earl K. Long was considering a 10-day close-in of Louisiana's wells. He wired the compact commission:

"We're willing to do what we can to help."

States represented at the conference produce 77.44 per cent of the nation's oil.

The men indicted were said to be officers or former officers of the companies or associations.

POLISH SOLDIER SHOT DOWN BY DANZIG GUARDS

the Danzig issue was shaping up for an autumn solution.

In Rome Premier Mussolini's preparations to give Generalissimo Franco of Spain an elaborate reception late in September led, however, to the conclusion in the Italian capital that Il Duce expected neither a major crisis nor the likelihood of war next month.

Official silence on intense diplomatic activity noticeable since the conference last week between Adolf Hitler and Professor Carl L. Burckhardt, League of Nations high commissioner for Danzig, strengthened belief of impending moves to break the stalemate over the Free City.

British officials insisted, however, that Britain had received no proposals on the German-Polish dispute and London government quarters even hinted they felt the Hitler-Burckhardt meeting had failed to produce anything new.

It was reiterated in London that no plan was likely to bear fruit if it proposed to leave Poland out of the negotiations or failed to take into account the British-French-Soviet Russian negotiations for a mutual assistance pact.

The situation in Danzig itself was disturbed further by the killing of a Polish soldier by Danzig frontier guards. An official communique said the Pole answered a call to halt by pointing his rifle at the Danzig guards.

Representative Hamilton Fish, New York Republican, expressed fears after a visit to German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop that a European war "may break out August 20." He proposed a 30-day "truce" to prevent it.

In the far east, the United States presented a formal protest to the Japanese against the detention and face-slapping of a 59-year-old American women, Mrs. Mary Frances Richard, by a Japanese sentry Monday.

In Shanghai a Japanese spokesman cited the possibility of a blockade in the international settlement there "if there is an increase in activities tending to assist Chiang Kai-Shek and injure the Japanese forces of occupation."

TOMKINS SAYS MANAGEMENT OF COLONY PROPER

tendants were incompetent. The average salary of these attendants is $30 to $40 per month. We cannot expect to hire trained nurses or college graduates on this meager salary. In addition to this, institutions are so politicalized that the superintendent has no full control over the hiring and firing of employes.

"The second charge was that some employes had mistreated patients. This is maliciously false. The patient was always my supreme interest and one of my first regulations issued was that any employe striking a patient would be fired. Several have been fired on this charge—as can be proved.

"The third charge implied that a patient committed suicide by hanging herself. Such a report was never made to me. Dr. Isadore Brickman was the physician of the particular dormitory for the lowest type of feeble-minded girls. Most of these patients are idiots and lie in bed. This case came directly under the practicing physicians supervision and investigation and Dr. Brickman absolutely made no such report to me. However, in the grand jury it was evidently made quite sensational. The actual fact is that the girl fell off the bed with a convulsion and became entangled in some way in the bed clothing.

"Charge No. 4 was that one of the female patients gave birth to a child. This was told in such a manner to make the public believe it happened within the walls of the institution. Since the investigation was so suddenly dropped the truth was never known. This girl was furloughed to New Orleans, during which time she became pregnant. This can be proven by looking at the records in the office, i.e., the date and duration of her furlough and the date of her confinement in the Charity hospital at New Orleans. There is no possible chance for such a thing to happen within the walls of the institution. The boys and girls are segregated in different dormitories and constantly supervised by attendants.

"I wish to state emphatically that I have had absolutely nothing to do with the buying at the institution or the handling of money since 1934. O. E. Byram was appointed for this purpose in 1934 and was replaced by Representative W. T. Bradford whom Governor Leche appointed in 1936. This was so politicalized that even the board was not consulted. Representative W. T. Bradford was given full authority of all buying and the handling of the institution money. He was a legislator and had much more power than I did. I was a 'nonenity' as far as Leche was concerned. The board at that time was composed of Judge H. H. White of Alexandria, Attorney General Gaston L. Porterie and Dr. J. C. Willis of Shreveport. Representative Bradford has said he was appointed to 'clean up the colony.' I am sure the board and I were unaware of the fact that it needed it."

Brown of New Orleans, expelled from membership in the Chicago board of trade, is under indictment by the East Baton Rouge parish grand jury on a charge of aiding and abetting Dr. J. M. Brown acted as Smith's broker in market speculations in which bonds of the college were put up as collateral.

Brown could not be reached for comment here today. Office employes said they had not heard of the expulsion.

"I now find that I will not be in a position, due to my judicial duties, to devote the attention and time required to properly discharge my duties as a member of the board of supervisors of the Louisiana State university and, therefore, tender my resignation as a member thereof."

He said his sister-in-law, a graduate nurse, retired about 20 years ago after working in the homes of George Westinghouse, electrical manufacturer, and Charles M. Schwab, steel master.

Dr. H. I. Clopp, hospital superintendent, said Mrs. Saeger was admitted November 1, 1937, for treatment of paranoia and a mental condition brought on by age. Miss Cowan, he said, had complained "a number of times" that her sister "was being abused or not treated properly."

CURTIS TO MEET SCHULTZ IN BOUT AT LOCAL ARENA

Handsome Vicksburg, Miss., Wrestler Carded For Thursday Night Program

[illegible] Monroe Wrestling arena, 504-506 Walnut street [illegible] Gus Kallio [illegible]

The match between Curtis and Schultz [illegible] they have the same [illegible] heavyweight build and although each wrestles in the light-heavyweight class, and each is noted for his speed and all-around mastery of wrestling. Each is an aerial artist, Curtis having won fame with his drop kick and flying head scissors, and Schultz having climbed the ladder of fame in the wrestling world with the aid of a flying body scissors. Each prefers to wrestle scientifically, although both, when handling roughhouse opponents, are thoroughly capable in long-distance sparring or in-close milling.

Curtis, who is perhaps the most handsome mat gladiator who has appeared here in some months, is highly popular with the lady fans, but for all that is a man's man with hair on his chest and steel in his backbone.

In the semi-final match Carl von Bromberg, the arrogant German grappler who likes to boast that he "takes" his opponents like Hitler took Czechoslovakia, will wrestle the "Shadow," masked, incognito terror. Upon demand made by Von Bromberg, the "Shadow" has agreed, in event he is defeated, to remove his mask and any and all tape which may be beneath the mask.

The two bouts of the program will be waged over main event time limits, two falls to win. A flip of a coin shortly before the starting time of 8:30 o'clock, will decide which bout will be waged first.

Kallio is well pleased with the new location of the arena. The seating arrangements will provide a better view of the ring from every bleacher seat, the cooling system will operate more efficiently, and more parking space for automobiles will be available, he said.

Ladies will be admitted to the inaugural night program at half price, provided each such admission is accompanied by one full paid admission.

The game progressed at a fast pace, and it began to look like a close game until the Sox unlimbered their bats in the eighth. Dale Englehorn and Johnny Conway, first up in the eighth, got bases on balls. Hargrove then singled off Bobby Salveson's leg, scoring Englehorn and sending Conway to third. Hank Taylor drove a single into right field, scoring Conway and putting Hargrove on third. HITS BY KELLER, ROLFE IN TENTH WIN FOR YANKS

Blows Give Gomez Deserved Victory After Nats Held To Three Safeties

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(AP)—Charlie Keller and Red Rolfe teamed Tuesday in the 10th inning to give the New York Yankees a 3-2 victory over the stubborn Washington Senators.

Keller's lusty double came on the heels of Rolfe's single and gave Lefty Gomez a deserved victory. He had limited the Senators to three hits, one of them a homer by Charlie Gelbert in the seventh inning.

The Yanks now hold an edge on the Senators, eight games to seven for the season.

A'S BLANK RED SOX

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16—(AP)—Lynn Nelson set the Boston Red Sox down with four hits Tuesday night to give the Athletics a 3-0 shutout in the season's finale for the Macks under the flood lights of Shibe park.

The defeat jarred the pennant aspirations of the Red Sox, dropping them a full seven games behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

Four singles, two of them in the ninth, were all the Bostonians could get from Nelson. Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams each got two.

A single by Wally Moses, Wayne Ambler's sacrifice and a single by Bob Johnson spelled the winning run for the Macks off Jack Wilson in the sixth. In the eighth, they registered two more off Joe Heving.

Bowman, singled in the winning run before Dean could retire a batter. To start the Cardinal tenth, Terry Moore singled, his third hit in five times up. It was "Terry Moore Day" at the park and friends had given him many gifts before the contest started. Glenn Russell fielded Don Gutteridge's bunt and tried to catch the fleet Moore at second but his toss went into center field. Moore reached third and Gutteridge went on to second. Then came Bowman's game winning hit.

Manager Gabby Hartnett of Chicago in the role of a pinch hitter sent the game into extra innings with his ninth inning single after two were out. His hot grounder past Stuart Martin drove in Augie Galan from second.

Bowman also did an excellent job of relief pitching in the tenth. He relieved Clyde Shoun with none out and two on and got out of the inning without a run.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(AP)—Connie Mack's doctors may let him go to the World's series. . . . When Billy Conn gets himself a punch it will be time enough to talk about him as an opponent for Joe Louis. . . . The gossips say Jimmy Wilson, coach of the Reds, is interested in the managerial berth at Indianapolis next year. . . . Johnny Jones, sports editor of the Saratoga Springs Saratogian, is the first of the brethren to come right out and pick Bob Pastor to trim Joe Louis next month. . . . International league fans can't get used to seeing Newark leading the second division.

The book, "Galento the Great," which sold for a buck when it first came out, now can be had for two bits a copy.

Shirley Povich has a sensational yarn in the Washington Post that if the Yanks blow the pennant, Ed Barrow may tie a can on Joe McCarthy and hire Stan Harris. . . . A gent named Uptown Dugan of Pittsburgh is around challenging "Evil Eye" Finkle for the hexing championship. Incidentally, Finkle goes on the air out of Chicago September 12 to gve you the low down on how he applies the Indian sign. . . . Mike Kelley, owner of the Minneapolis club, says the two best managers in baseball are his own Tom Sheehan and Bill Meyer of Kansas City and that goes for the guys in the majors, too.

Roundy Coughlin, Madison (Wisconsin) State-Journal: "I seen some of your New York Giant football players at the depot. . . . One camera can take only two of them guys at a time."

Us Spearfish Normal rooters are glad to note Coach Ted Birkeland predicts an upswing in athletics out there. . . . Football practice starts September 12 and it is sincerely hoped more jobs will open up around the town to help the needy athletes. . . . Over the air Saturday night, Henry Armstrong will quote poetry and Lou Ambers will sing. . . . The time is 10 to 10:15 if you want to tune off. . . . Bruce Barnes, the tennis pro, says Don McNeill is two years away from the national championship.

When Warren C. Giles, general manager of the Reds, went to Birmingham to buy the ball club, he was amazed at the crowd that turned out to greet him. . . . He soon found out that what the boys really wanted were tickets to the World's series.

Commissioner D. Walker Wear of the New York state athletic commission is on the coast predicting (a) that Louis is on the downgrade; (b) that Ambers may lick Armstrong and (c) that Nova will beat Galento. . . . Football scouts from West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania are converging on Little Cameron, W. Va., where Kenneth Arnold, 190-pound halfback, is trying to decide where to go for some learning. . . . (Is that University of West Virginia snickering?) . . . The Athletics laid out 50,000 berries and four players for Herman Besso, the Memphis left-hander.

PAUL DEAN IS SENT TO CARDS' COLUMBUS FARM

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Paul Dean's attempt to make a comeback for the St. Louis Cardinals ended in failure Tuesday night.

The National league club announced the pitcher had been released outright to Columbus of the American association, a Cardinal farm.

Dean, younger brother of Dizzy Dean of the Chicago Cubs, turned up with a sore arm in 1936 after pitching brilliantly for the Cardinals. He won two games in the 1934 World Series.

Sent to the minors in 1937, he returned near the end of last season, but never regained his effectiveness against major league batters. He pitched only 43 innings this year and had a record of no victories and one defeat.

TURKEYS WILL HAVE MORE PIN FEATHERS

LIBERTY, Mo., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Housewives who observe President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving, November 23, will have to pick more pin feathers from their turkeys than if the holiday was November 30.

Leon Miller, who is feeding 13,000 birds for the holiday trade, explains:

Hatching is regulated so turkeys will be 26 to 28 weeks old when marketed. They fatten for 26 weeks, then are "finished off," a process that rids them of most of their pin feathers.

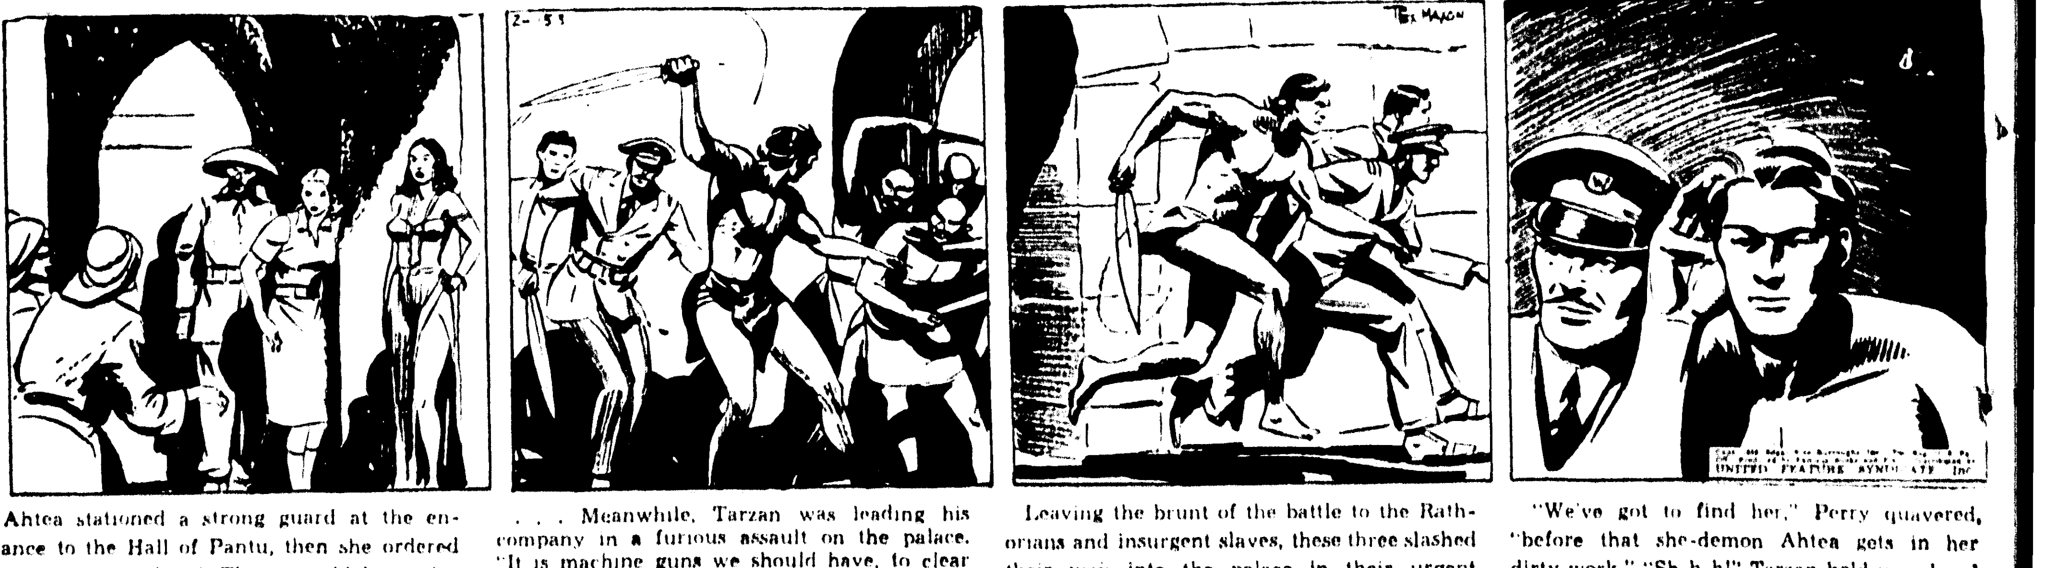
TARZAN AND THE FIRES OF TOHR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Ahtea stationed a strong guard at the entrance to the Hall of Pantu, then she ordered the great door closed. There would be no interference with these solemn death rites for Janette and Dr. Wong. And now the priests gathered around, like jackals at a feast . . .

. . . Meanwhile, Tarzan was leading his company in a furious assault on the palace. "It is machine guns we should have, to clear a path," said D'Arnot. Perry laughed grimly. "Stick with Tarzan and you don't need 'em. He's cutting a highway through those yellow devils!"

Leaving the brunt of the battle to the Rathorians and insurgent slaves, these three slashed their way into the palace in their urgent search for Janette. Through the maze of corridors they dashed to the throne room, hoping she was there. The room was empty.

"We've got to find her," Perry quavered, "before that she-demon Ahtea gets in her dirty work." "Sh-h-h!" Tarzan held up a hand for silence. To his ears came the distant sound of chanting, priests chanting for the sacrifice. "Follow me," he commanded. "Quick!"

K. C. WOULD END RACE PREJUDICE

SEATTLE, Aug 16—(AP)—Elimination of all traces of racial prejudice—anti-Semitism was labeled one of the most dangerous—was advocated at the Knights of Columbus international convention.

Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, who said he spoke for the rank and file of the Catholic fraternal body, declared one of the most "dangerous of racial prejudices is anti-Semitism.

"The Jewish race, per se, is not responsible for the transgressions of individual [illegible] any more than we Catholics can be blamed because both Hitler and Goebbels were baptized as children of the Catholic church."

He said the Knights of Columbus must set our faces like flint against the Karl Marx devastating spirit of atheism against the wretched Hitler's abomination of totalitarian or the imperialistic and nationalistic ascendency which is so prevalent in other countries.

The Most Rev. Charles D. White, bishop of the diocese of Spokane, likewise [illegible] totalitarian philosophies.

ICKES WOULD PUT REFUGEES IN ALASKA

WASHINGTON, Aug 16—(AP)—Refugees from Europe should be permitted to settle in Alaska, Secretary Ickes believes, as a means of developing the territory and strengthening [illegible] defenses.

European industries "broken up or [illegible] by current waves of intolerance" should be transplanted to Alaska, Ickes said yesterday in a statement approving a report prepared under the direction of Harry Slattery, undersecretary of the interior.

"It is a matter of serious national concern," Ickes said, "that Alaska with a territory, climate and resources equal to all Scandinavia now has a static population of about 60,000 compared with a population of 13,000,000 in Scandinavia."

Slattery's report said:

"Whatever justification there may be for the present quota laws with respect to the settled areas of the United States, application of the same yardstick to an under-populated territory whose future well-being depends on new immigration and new capital is extremely questionable from the standpoint of national policy."

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS

FERRIDAY, La., Aug 16—(Special)—The executive board of the Ferriday Women's club held an important meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Joseph Pasternack, and plans were discussed for the ensuing years at this time. An interesting program was carried out and refreshments were served.

Sugar

NEW YORK, Aug 16—(AP)—Trade and Cuban buying readily absorbed liquidation in the domestic sugar future market today, and prices rallied when selling dried up. Late afternoon prices were one to two points higher, with September at 1.88 and January 1.91.

World futures were reactionary in sympathy with London. Profit taking and liquidation satisfied a scattered demand and prices were unchanged to 1 1-2 off.

Raw sugar here turned quiet and duty free was offered at 2.85 and 2.90, but interest was slow. Refined remained at 4.30-40.

Futures No. 3 closed 1-2 higher. Sales 13,900 tons. Closed: Sept. 1.89b; Jan. 1.91b; March 1.93b.

WPA WORKERS TO GET MORE

Wages Will Be Increased But Number Will Be Greatly Reduced

WASHINGTON, Aug 16—(AP)—WPA workers will receive a monthly average of $2.50 more pay after September 1, but there will be about 300,000 fewer persons on the rolls.

Officials so interpreted an order issued yesterday by Colonel F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner, establishing 60 new wage schedules for five different types of employment in three areas.

Harrington's order was designed to put into effect requirements of the new relief act calling for a general overhauling of WPA wages without changing materially the present national average. That average, Harrington said, stood at about $53 in June. The new schedules will increase it to about $55.50.

Officials said Harrington did not consider this to be a material increase, since it represented a raise of only about 5 per cent from the old level. The total cost to the government, they said, actually would be less than it is now in view of pending cuts expected to bring WPA enrollment down from 2,134,911 on July 26 to about 1,900,000 on September 1.

The new schedule of earnings does not affect a recent requirement that WPA employes must work 130 hours for the monthly wage.

Harrington emphasized that an increase in the national average did not mean more income for each individual worker. Most of the increases, he said, would be in southern states, particularly in the rural regions, while pay rates would remain more or less stationary or decline slightly in northern metropolitan areas.

For example, he said, unskilled wages in the southern states would jump from $26 to $35 a month for rural laborers and from $40 to $50.70 for urban workers. In northern and western cities of 100,000 or more population, the unskilled wage rate will be $57.20 as against a present schedule of $55 to $60 a month.

AGED TREASURER IMPROVES

FERRIDAY, La., Aug 16—(Special)—J. L. Rountree, veteran treasurer of Concordia parish, who has been ill at the Ferriday hospital, has been returned to his home in Vidalia. His condition is reported as vastly improved.

SHOTS FIRED IN MOCK WAR

Maneuvers Will Continue For 10 Days In New York Countryside

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP) — The first army, composed of national guard and regular troops described by Lieutenant-General Hugh A. Drum as woefully short in manpower and weapons, fired today the first shots in a mock war which for ten days will surge over northern New York countryside.

Scorning suggestions the 52,000 troops under his command wage their battles at "paper strength" with imaginary armament the army hopes someday to secure, General Drum mapped the campaign on a factual basis to bring home the actualities of our state of preparedness.

Any other approach, General Drum told 2,000 officers assembled last night [illegible] on the Plattsburg [illegible] present a false picture, thereby deceiving you and [illegible] citizens who are really concerned in the protection of their homes.

General Drum backed his comments on the deficiencies of the first army with figures [illegible] he said showed a shortage of 22 per cent in manpower [illegible] 53 per cent [illegible]

ST. FRANCIS SANITARIUM ASKS YOUR COOPERATION

Visiting Hours Must Not Be Abused

A closer bond of knowledge and understanding as between the general public and an institution for the care of the sick is earnestly desired among hospital authorities. Extending a hand in appeal for sympathetic comradeship and a united cause, the Saint Francis Sanitarium staff is making a straightforward bid for general insight and cooperation on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Citizen and family.

Authorities of Saint Francis Sanitarium are conscious not only of a grave responsibility to patients, but also of the necessity to cooperate with the citizens of the community.

Owing to the unnecessarily large number of visitors and the irregular hours at which they enter the hospital the patients are constantly disturbed and the work of the personnel is hindered.

Therefore, a hearty appeal is being made through this medium to the people of the community and surrounding area to adhere to the visiting hours given below.

Private patients	10-11 a. m.
	2- 4 p. m.
	7- 8:30 p. m.
Ward patients	2- 4 p. m.
	7- 8:30 p. m.

All visitors are requested to enter hospital by the main entrance as the side entrance is reserved for ambulances and cars. (Adv.)
